What the job entails

- Proofreading translations from various subject areas
- After successful familiarisation: preparing own translations and transcriptions, as well as MT post-editing
- Using CAT tools such as Across, Trados Studio, STAR Transit, Kilgray memoQ
- Updating translation memories
- Editing, formatting and creating layouts for translation projects in various file formats
- Terminology research and revision

Your profile

- A degree in the field of translation or linguistics, or a comparable education with relevant professional experience
- Native English speaker
- Very good knowledge of German, further language skills desirable
- Initial practical experience in professional translation and usage of CAT tools
- Proficient use of MS Office products, experience with other software desirable
- Affinity for technical, economic and medical topic areas
- Accurate, structured and efficient way of working as well as open-mindedness to new topics and technologies

Contact

Are you interested in joining our international team and taking on the role described above? Then send your application, stating your earliest possible starting date, and the reference code ENJ via e-mail to Kateryna Shliakhta: recruiting@tsd-int.com

What we offer

- Individual training according to your professional skills followed by independent work where you take over specific areas of responsibility
- Further training opportunities – Learning is a top priority with us!
- International environment, flat hierarchies and short communication channels
- Flexibility for location and independence: fully remote, hybrid or 100% at the office (choose what fits best for you)
- Informal working atmosphere: no dress code, relaxed corporate culture and team events
- Become part of our interdisciplinary taskforce and help shape the company!
- At the end of the junior programme, we intend to take you on as a permanent employee, if suited
